

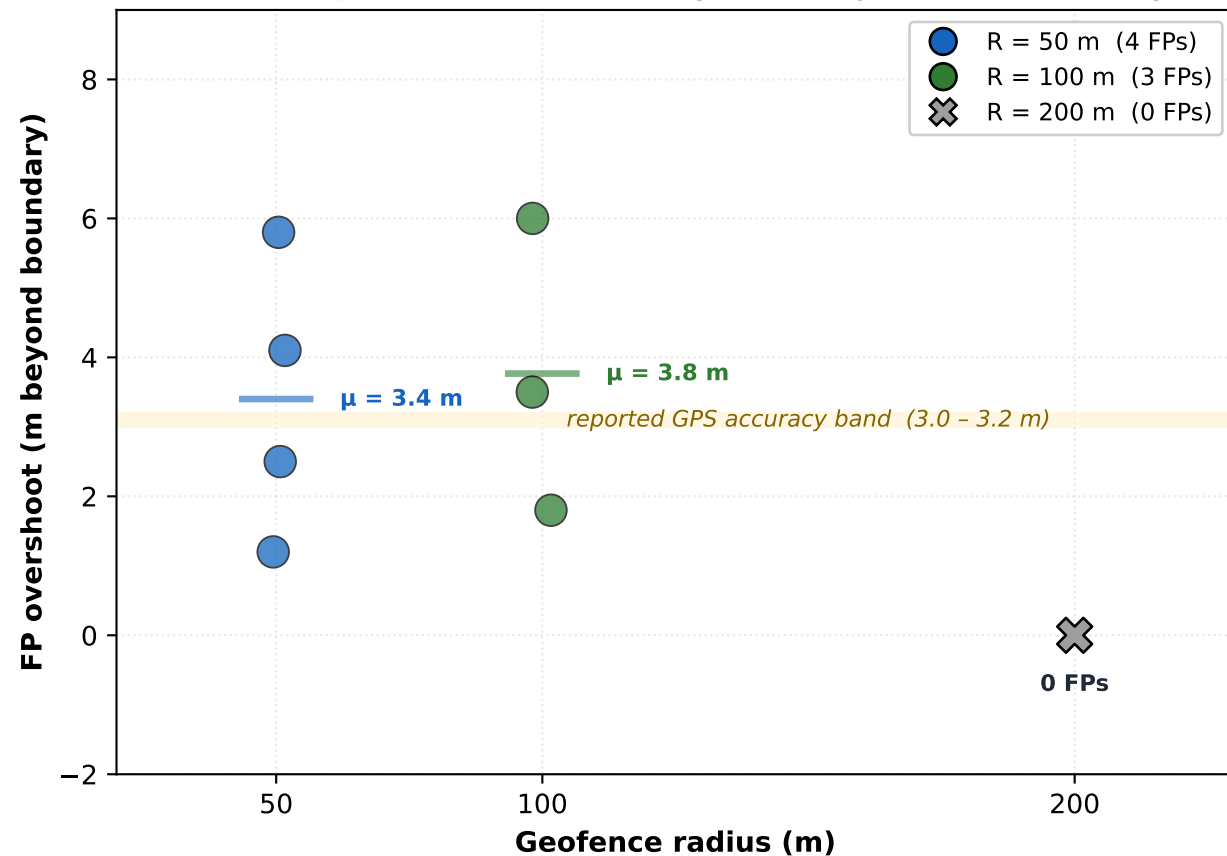

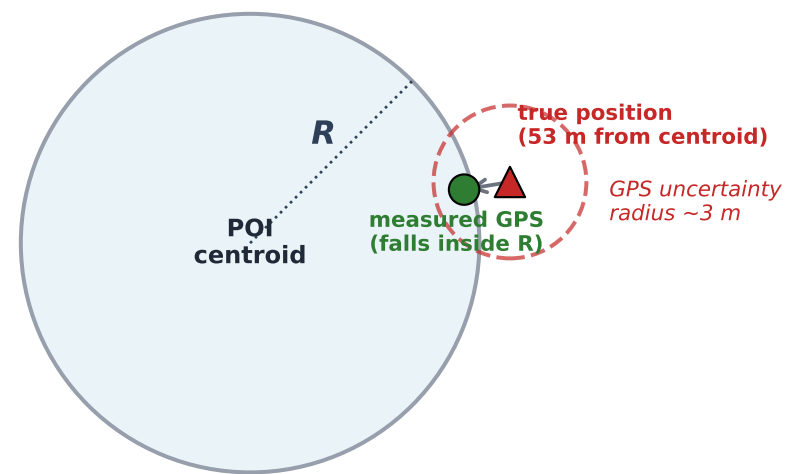

Figure 5. False positives are explained by GPS positioning error, not application logic

(a) False-positive overshoot beyond the geofence boundary

(b) Why FPs concentrate near the boundary

A true position just outside the boundary is measured inside with high probability when overshoot < GPS uncertainty.